Thanks for dropping by my website! I'm a travel blogger, food writer, photographer, and lover of all things Disney. I started traveling at the age of 10, and was instantly hooked. I'm a mom of 2 little girls, and live in the suburbs of Chicago, IL. My favorite things include Star Wars, pina coladas, drinking root beer floaties, cookie dough and candy, and making videos about traveling. If you want to keep up with me, you can follow my instagram @happyslacks, or you can get in touch with me on the contact page. Thanks again for visiting! I love blogging about Disney and traveling around the world with my family. My favorite part of traveling is being able to learn about the world and all of the cool places we go. I love writing about my experiences and I hope you can follow me on my adventures.Coastal Property / Loft investment Regardless of where we live in the world, the coast is always a part of our lives and surroundings. In the UK, when you look at the coastline, there are many differing types and vintages of property, from the small Panshanger family cottage to the vast seaside luxury villa. In Weymouth, Dorset we are lucky enough to have a long stretch of the coast with small, compact, and usually detached cottages/villas that run the whole length of the coastline, North, South, East and West. These are some of the most sought after and best located to get both front and rear private gardens. However not everyone can afford one of the attractive 'Waterhouse' properties in Weymouth, but many areas of the coast do offer relatively low-cost housing to the masses. In Dorset we are lucky enough to be close to the magnificent Jurassic Coast - a unique stretch of coastline famed for its fossil discoveries, ancient cliffs, lighthouse ruins, and most importantly, sandy beaches. e79caf774b
